

ST ALBANS
SCHOOL

TEACHER OF ART

FOR SEPTEMBER 2024

THE SCHOOL

St Albans School is a multi-dimensional institution: academic excellence, intellectual development and strong pastoral care lie at the core of an exceptional holistic education, enabling us to identify and nurture each pupil's potential. Our fundamental and unremitting focus on our pupils' wellbeing gives them the self-confidence and self-belief to do, and to give of, their best. Inspirational teaching ensures strong intellectual development whilst outstanding provision and achievements in the wider curriculum enrich each pupil's experience. Our pupils develop important values, qualities and skills, as well as learning an awareness and understanding of the wider world as they determine the contribution they intend to make to it in their adult lives.

We believe that a good education comprises so much more than just academic work and intellectual development. Significant emphasis is placed on wellbeing and pastoral care (organised by section and year group): the warmth and friendliness of the School community is one of its great strengths and distinctive features. The School's vision is to help each pupil flourish intellectually and personally, developing self-knowledge and self-confidence in order to find meaning and purpose in life. Further information about the School's motto, ethos, aims, vision and values can be found here.

The School has a fine reputation for academic achievement, for success in university entrance and for achievement thereafter. Distinguished Old Albanian academics include Professor Lord Renfrew, formerly Master of Jesus College, Cambridge; the late Dr John Barber, formerly Vice Provost of King's College, Cambridge; and the late Professor Stephen Hawking. Academic standards are consistently very high: the five-year average of A Levels grades is A* 36%, A*-A 70% and A*-B 89%. At (I)GCSE the five-year grade average is 70% 9-8/A* grades and 87% 9-7/A*-A grades. Further information about examination results can be found here.

However, the School sees examination results as a means to an end rather than an end in themselves and the importance of the learning journey is prioritised. The focus of teaching and learning is to ensure students are educated in the fullest sense so that they may be productive in their communities in the spirit of the School motto (non nobis nati – born not for ourselves) and fulfil their potential. St Albans School students are holistic learners who take responsibility for their own learning and we equip them, via our Learning to Learn (LTL) programme, with the theoretical, practical and creative skills to thrive in any environment and to have well-developed skills of independent learning in order to be able to prosper in higher education and the workplace. Our teachers are subject specialists with a commitment to developing transferable skills as well as excellent subject knowledge; they are innovative and creative in their pedagogical approaches and have high expectations for their pupils. Support and training are provided by the Teaching and Learning Team who aim to develop and extend the professional community within and beyond the School.

All teachers are provided with a School laptop with wi-fi connectivity to smart boards in classrooms. The School's BYOD scheme for Third Form (Year 9) pupils and above is now in its fifth year. Whilst teaching and learning is not exclusively undertaken via digital means, teachers deploy a wide range of digital strategies and all classes utilise Microsoft Teams and OneNote notebooks.

The co-curriculum plays a vital role in developing values, skills and qualities in preparation for adult life: drama, music, sport, CCF and the Duke of Edinburgh's Award Scheme are all thriving as is our extensive partnership scheme with local state-maintained schools.

The vast majority of our leavers are successful in securing places on competitive courses at Russell Group universities. The most popular destinations in recent years have been Bath, Bristol, Birmingham, Cambridge, Durham, Exeter, Leeds, Manchester, Nottingham, Oxford, Warwick and York.

St Albans School is among the most ancient educational foundations in the world and can trace its history back to its foundation in 948AD. After the dissolution of the monasteries, the School's activities were temporarily suspended before its re-founding in 1570. This was made possible by Queen Elizabeth I's grant of the wine licences for the borough of St Albans to Sir Nicholas Bacon, Lord Verulam and Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, who used the income to pay the annual salary of the Master of the School. For 300 years the School flourished in the Lady Chapel of the Abbey, until in 1870 it moved to occupy the Great Gateway of the Abbey and the beautiful adjacent site overlooking the remains of the Roman City of Verulamium. The School has not, therefore, been a Church Foundation since the Reformation, but its historical links with the Abbey have naturally helped to shape its character, and the School still meets for Assembly in the Abbey twice a week.

The School was, for much of the twentieth century, a Direct Grant school, but is now fully independent. The current Headmaster, like his recent predecessors, is a member of the Headmasters' and Headmistresses' Conference (HMC). The present school roll is c.910 with a Sixth Form of about 350, and the teaching staff numbers some 110.

There has been a great deal of investment in buildings and facilities over recent years. In 2002 the School opened extensive new sports grounds, Woollams, on a 70-acre site on the northern outskirts of the city: the School uses some 45 acres and the Old Albanian Sports Association is the tenant of the remainder. The School competes at a very high level in all the major sports and in cross country has a national reputation. The School owns a well-equipped Field Study Centre, Pen Arthur, in the Brecon Beacons.

The latest additions to the School campus include a new Sports Centre (with swimming pool, sports hall, fitness centre, dance studio and climbing wall) and the purchase of a large building (Aquis Court) on an adjoining site which has been converted into a superb Art School, Sixth Form Centre and a suite of classrooms. The Hall has recently undergone the first phase of a major refurbishment programme, the main feature of which was the construction of a new Music School which was opened in May 2018. The Corfield Building, an outstanding £6.5m facility for Mathematics (on the Upper Ground and First Floors) and the CCF (on the Lower Ground Floor, opened in January 2020.

The classrooms vacated by Mathematics have been converted into new facilities for Computer Science (opened in 2020) and additional Science laboratories (2021). There is a rolling programme of refurbishment of academic departments: the vast majority of classrooms and laboratories have been revamped in recent years.

The School received the highest-possible gradings in its most recent inspection report (November 2022): the quality of the pupils' academic and other achievements and the quality of the pupils' personal development were both deemed to be 'excellent'. Further information and a copy of the inspection report can be viewed here.

The School is heavily oversubscribed at all levels of entry. The main ages of entry are ages 11 and 13 for boys, and girls and boys are admitted into the Sixth Form. Scholarships are offered at all ages of entry, and the School is able to provide assistance to some families, in cases of proven need, from its own bursary fund. Entry at 11+ and 13+ is by competitive examination and interview. Many 13+ joiners secure their place through 12+ assessments in the Summer Term of Year 7. Entry into the Sixth Form is by interview and conditional upon GCSE results.

St Albans is a beautiful Cathedral city, with a lively cultural life, surrounded by countryside but only 20 minutes from London by train, with easy access to motorways and airports. It is a relatively affluent area on the edge of a densely populated conurbation with areas of affordable property within easy travelling distance.

THE ART DEPARTMENT

The Department consists of three teachers (two full-time and one part-time) and a full-time technician.

We aim to foster a happy and creative learning environment. All pupils study Art in the First and Second Forms (Years 7 and 8). Pupils who opt to continue the subject in the Third Form (Year 9) embark upon a foundation programme designed to encourage the development of knowledge, skills and understanding along with creativity and imagination required for studying the subject at a higher level .

In the Fourth and Fifth Form (Years 10 and 11) students are taught in classes no larger than 16 and gain experience of the varied nature of Art and Design alongside developing their critical thinking skills and stepping outside of their comfort zones when working with new media. The OCR specification is followed at both GCSE and at A Level. Details of public exam results can be found on the School website and have been very good for many years.

The Department is well resourced and occupies a modern building with excellent facilities. On the ground floor there are two studios for general art and design and a separate ceramics studio. The kiln is located in an adjoining room.

Upstairs there is one large open plan studio which runs the length of the building. Here, there are facilities for general art and design as well as for printmaking and a dedicated studio space for A Level students. There are three printing presses which enable pupils to produce relief prints, etchings and collagraphs.

In addition, there are six computers and an extensive art library together with a departmental office. All studios are equipped with interactive white boards.

There is a wide programme of gallery visits to London and nearby locations. In recent years there have also been visits to a European capital such as Madrid or Amsterdam. In previous years, a large exhibition of the School's artwork was held at a local gallery and there is an annual exhibition of GCSE and A Level work held in the Summer Term.

The Department is ambitious for its students, forward looking and has curriculum and professional development high on its agenda. It is supportive of its staff; their artistic practice and specialisms are developed and utilised and innovations encouraged.

The School offers Art Scholarships at age 13+, which are open to both external and internal applicants. Art can be offered as part of the application for 16+ scholarships.
